Dear Dr. Ransom:

Many thanks for your letter of 24 March 1959 to Mr. Dulles in which you asked our approval of inviting [redacted] to the University to consult on machine translation either this spring or in the autumn.

I am happy to make [redacted] available for such consultation. As you know, his enthusiasm for the field of machine linguistics stems from the pioneer days of that field. Furthermore, many of us feel that the degree of human understanding that could be accomplished if language barriers could be lowered without sacrificing linguistic integrity might well be a major step toward peace.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

C. P. Cabell

Acting Director
